

Audi FIS Alpine Skiing World Cup 2026/27 – Women's Giant Slalom

Sölden Stat Sheet

Last Season (2025/26) - Key GS Stats

- 1 Julia Scheib (AUT/Rossignol) won the Giant Slalom Crystal Globe last season, making her the ninth Austrian woman to win a GS Globe and the first since Eva-Maria Brem (AUT) in 2015/16. Scheib's win in Åre also made her the second Austrian woman to win 5 GS races in a season after Annemarie Moser-Proell (AUT) in 1974/75.
- 2 Julia Scheib's (AUT/Rossignol) 209-point advantage over Camille Rast (SUI/Head) was the fifth-highest winning margin for a women's GS Globe, and largest ever by an Austrian woman. Scheib's win in Sölden last season was her first ever World Cup victory, coming 2832 days after her World Cup debut (in GS) in 2017/18.
- 3 In the final Giant Slalom race in Hafjell last season, Julia Scheib's (AUT/Rossignol) 3rd place made her the second woman from any nation (and first from Austria) to make 8 GS podiums in a single season, after Tina Maze (SLO) made 9 in 2012/13.
- 4 Julia Scheib's (AUT/Rossignol) 8 GS podiums was twice as many as the next best last season, with three skiers on 4 each - Paula Moltzan (USA/Van Deer), who has joined the developing Van Deer team as its first women's skier, Alice Robinson (NZL/Head) and Sara Hector (SWE/Head). Scheib is the third woman this century to end a season on at least twice as many GS podiums as the next-best skier/s, after Anja Paerson (SWE) in 2003/04 and Tina Maze (SLO) in 2012/13.
- 5 Camille Rast's (SUI/Head) 2nd in both the Giant Slalom and Slalom standings last season saw her finish 3rd in the Overall Standings, marking her best-ever season in all three categories. Rast's first and to date only win in 62 GS starts came last season in Kranjska Gora, which made her the 20th Swiss woman to reach double figure WC podiums across all disciplines.
- 6 Sara Hector (SWE/Head) finished 3rd in the Giant Slalom standings last season for the third year in a row, and also finished 2nd in 2021/22, making her the only woman to make the top 3 of the GS Globe standings in four of the past five seasons. Hector, who won her first World Cup GS race in 2014, secured her 8th career GS win with a single victory last season in Spindleruv Mlyn, making her last season's oldest women's GS race winner at age 33.
- 7 Sara Hector's (SWE/Head) 4 Giant Slalom podiums last season brought her career tally to 25 GS podiums, which is second-highest for Swedish women behind Anja Paerson (SWE) on 28. Hector's Olympic GS silver medal at Milano Cortina 2026 made her the first Swedish woman (and second Swede after Ingemar Stenmark) to win two Olympic GS medals.
- 8 Alice Robinson (NZL/Head) finished 5th in the Giant Slalom standings and was the only skier besides Julia Scheib (AUT/Rossignol) to win more than one GS race last season, with victories in Copper Mountain and Tremblant. Over the past three seasons Robinson has made more GS podiums (16) than any other woman, followed by Federica Brignone (ITA/Rossignol) (13) and Sara Hector (SWE/Head) (12).

- 9 Alice Robinson's (NZL/Head) GS win in Copper Mountain at age 23 made her the youngest women's GS race winner last season, a record she now owns in four of the past seven seasons she competed (2025/26, 2024/25, 2020/21 and 2019/20). Her 2019/20 win at age 17 in Sölden made her the youngest woman this century to win a GS race.
- 10 Mikaela Shiffrin (USA/Atomic) finished 4th in the Giant Slalom standings and won the Slalom Globe to secure her sixth Overall Crystal Globe, equalling Annemarie Moser-Proell (AUT) for the most Overall titles among women. Shiffrin was one of three women (alongside Julia Scheib (AUT/Rossignol) and Camille Rast (SUI/Head)) to make 8 top-6 finishes from 10 GS races last season, including one podium (3rd in Spindleruv Mlyn).
- 11 Coming into the 2026/27 season, 50 women have won three or more World Cup GS races in their careers, among whom 8 are active skiers - Mikaela Shiffrin (USA/Atomic) (22), Federica Brignone (ITA/Rossignol) (17), Sara Hector (SWE/Head) (8), Petra Vlhova (SVK/Rossignol) (6), Alice Robinson (NZL/Head) (6), Marta Bassino (ITA/Head) (6), Julia Scheib (AUT/Rossignol) (5), and Valerie Grenier (CAN/Rossignol) (3).

Sölden Stats

- 1 This weekend is the 28th women's World Cup Giant Slalom race to be held in Sölden. The first, in 1993/94, was won by then-Olympic (1992) and World Championship (1993) GS silver medallist Anita Wachter (AUT), whose 2.63s winning margin is still the biggest in GS in Sölden. Tanja Poutiainen's (FIN) 0.01s win ahead of Kathrin Zettel (AUT) in 2009/10 is the smallest. There have also been two ties for first.
- 2 The 2002/03 Giant Slalom race in Sölden saw the first ever three-way tie for 1st in any World Cup Alpine skiing discipline, between Nicole Hosp (AUT), Tina Maze (SLO) and Andrine Flemmen (NOR). Sölden also hosted a two-way tie for 1st in GS in 2014/15 between Mikaela Shiffrin (USA/Atomic) and Anna Veith (née Fenninger) (AUT), making the Rettenbach glacier the only venue with more than one tied World Cup GS race.
- 3 The winner of the women's Giant Slalom race in Sölden has gone on to win the GS Globe in 10 out of 27 seasons, including the past three seasons - Julia Scheib (AUT/Rossignol) in 2025/26, Federica Brignone (ITA/Rossignol) in 2024/25 and Lara Gut-Behrami (SUI) in 2023/24.
- 4 Tina Maze (SLO) and Lara Gut-Behrami (SUI) have the most Giant Slalom wins in Sölden (3 each). Two active skiers are among five women with 2 GS wins in Sölden - Mikaela Shiffrin (USA/Atomic) (2014/15, 2021/22) and Federica Brignone (ITA/Rossignol) (2015/16, 2024/25).
- 5 Julia Scheib (AUT/Rossignol) won last season's Giant Slalom race in Sölden by 0.58s ahead of Paula Moltzan (USA/Van Deer), with now-retired Lara Gut-Behrami (SUI) in 3rd place. Scheib is one of four active women's skiers on 1 GS win in Sölden along with Alice Robinson (NZL/Head) (2019/20), Marta Bassino (ITA/Head) (2020/21) and Lindsey Vonn (USA/Head) (2011/12).

6 Mikaela Shiffrin (USA/Atomic) has the most Giant Slalom podiums in Sölden (6), with Federica Brignone (ITA/Rossignol), Lara Gut-Behrami (SUI) and Kathrin Zettel (AUT) on 5 each. Besides Zettel, Julia Scheib (AUT/Rossignol) is the only other Austrian woman with more than 1 GS podium in Sölden (2). Shiffrin and Tessa Worley (FRA) have the most top-10 GS finishes in Sölden (11), meaning a top-10 finish for Shiffrin this weekend will see her surpass Worley.

Potential Milestones

- 1 A win for Julia Scheib (AUT/Rossignol) would see her become the first Austrian woman to win more than 1 GS race in Sölden. Scheib is currently one of six Austrian women with a single victory there.
- 2 Julia Scheib (AUT/Rossignol) also made the podium in Sölden (3rd) in 2024/25. A podium for Scheib this weekend would see her become the second Austrian woman to make the Giant Slalom podium in Sölden three seasons in a row, after Kathrin Zettel (AUT) (2008-2010). A podium for Scheib would also see her become the 51st woman (and 12th from Austria) to reach 10 World Cup GS podiums.
- 3 A win for Julia Scheib (AUT/Rossignol) would see her join Alice Robinson (NZL/Head), Marta Bassino (ITA/Head) and Petra Vlhova (SVK/Rossignol) on 6 career GS World Cup wins, which is equal-24th highest among women. The next GS win for Robinson, Bassino or Vlhova will see them join Kathrin Zettel (AUT) on 7 GS wins (currently outright 23rd-highest among women).
- 4 Mikaela Shiffrin (USA/Atomic) is a two-time Giant Slalom Globe winner (2022/23, 2018/19) and has the most women's World Cup GS wins (22), with Federica Brignone (ITA/Rossignol) (17) the only other active skier with more than 10. As of Sat 24 Oct, Shiffrin's last GS win came 1031 days ago in Lienz in 2023/24.
- 5 Any top-3 finish for Mikaela Shiffrin (USA/Atomic) will see her equal Anita Wachter (AUT) on 45 GS podiums, which is currently second-highest among women behind Vreni Schneider (SUI) on 46.
- 6 Sara Hector (SWE/Head) can close the gap on Anja Paerson (SWE) for most GS podiums among Swedish women. Hector has 8 wins among 25 GS podiums, while Paerson has 11 wins among 28 GS podiums. If Hector can repeat the 4 GS podiums she won last season, she will surpass Paerson's GS podium count this season. Among Swedish women and men, only Ingemar Stenmark has more (72). Hector's next victory will see her join Tamara Mckinney (USA) on 9 GS wins (18th-highest among women).
- 7 A podium for Alice Robinson (NZL/Head) will see her surpass Kathrin Zettel (AUT) on 21 GS podiums and join Martina Ertl-Renz (GER) on 22, which is 17th-highest among women. A win for Robinson would see her join Zettel on 7 GS wins, (23rd highest among women).
- 8 Petra Vlhova (SVK/Rossignol) is on 19 GS podiums, and can become the 24th woman to reach 20, which is equal-20th among women alongside Marta Bassino (ITA/Head) and three other non-active skiers.

9 Marta Bassino's (ITA/Head) next Giant Slalom win will see her move from equal-3rd (alongside Denise Karbon, (ITA) for most GS wins among Italian women (6) to outright 3rd behind Federica Brignone (ITA/Rossignol) (17) and Deborah Compagnoni (ITA) (13). Bassino won the GS Globe in 2020/21, and as of 24 Oct her last GS win came 1414 days ago in Sestriere in 2022/23.

10 Camille Rast (SUI/Head) and Thea Louise Stjernesund (NOR/Rossignol) are both on 4 GS podiums. A podium for Stjernesund would see her join Ragnhild Mowinckel (NOR/Head) on 5, which is second-highest among Norwegian women behind Andrine Flemmen (NOR) (10). Rast's next podium will make her the 10th Swiss woman to reach 5 GS podiums.

Others to Watch

1 Petra Vlhova (SVK/Rossignol), Marta Bassino (ITA/Head) and Neja Dvornik (SLO/Rossignol) are all expected to make their return to racing following injury. As of 24 Oct, Vlhova's last World Cup race came 1008 days ago in 2023/24 when she suffered her knee injury in the Giant Slalom race in Jasna. Bassino's last World Cup race prior to her leg fracture came 580 days ago in 2024/25 (Super G), while Dvornik returns from her leg fracture sustained during warmup for the Slalom at Gurgl last season.

2 Nina O'Brien (USA/Rossignol) picked up her first World Cup top-5 finish last season (5th in GS in Spindleruv Mlyn), as did Maryna Gasienica-Daniel (POL/Atomic) (5th in GS in both Kronplatz and Semmering). Clara Drez (FRA/Dynastar) earned her second career individual top-5 finish with 5th in GS in Tremblant, while Sue Piller (SUI/Atomic) reached the top-6 for the first time in GS with 6th in Spindleruv Mlyn.

3 Lara Della Mea (ITA/Fischer) was one of 8 women to make at least six top-10 finishes in Giant Slalom races last season, but the only one of those 8 not to have a podium finish among those GS races. Della Mea also finished 4th in the GS race at Milano Cortina 2026, missing out on an Olympic medal by 0.05s. Her compatriot, Asja Zenere (ITA/Salomon), finished 14th in the same Olympic race at Milano Cortina 2026, and posted the first top-10 GS World Cup finishes of her career in Copper Mountain (9th) and Åre (10th).

4 There were 5 teenagers among the 59 women to score points in the Giant Slalom Globe last season: Lara Colturi (ALB/Head), who is still looking for Albania's first World Cup win, Madeleine Sylvester-Davik (NOR/Atomic), Dania Allenbach (SUI/Salomon), Giorgia Collomb (ITA/Rossignol) and the youngest Anna Trocker (ITA/Salomon). Trocker made her World Cup debut in GS in Semmering last season a few days after her 17th birthday and managed her first top-10 finish (8th in Lillehammer) in only her fifth GS race.

Around the Nations

1 Austria has won 98 women's World Cup GS races and can become the first nation to reach 100 victories.

2 A top-3 finish for Switzerland would be its 1950th World Cup podium (women's and men's combined). Only Austria (2973) has more coming into Sölden.

- 3 Italy is on 99 World Cup GS wins (women's and men's combined), needing one more to become the third nation to reach 100 after Austria (212) and Switzerland (191).
- 4 Canada is on 39 World Cup GS podiums (women's and men's combined), needing one more to become the 12th nation to reach 40.
- 5 Switzerland is on 898 women's World Cup podiums (across all events), needing two more to become the second nation after Austria to reach 900.

Notable Starts

- 1 Wendy Holdener (SUI/Head) will make her 320th World Cup start, while Mina Fuerst Holtmann (NOR/Atomic) will make her 160th and Thea Louise Stjernesund (NOR/Rossignol) her 140th. Sölden will also be Holdener's 112th Giant Slalom start.
- 2 Sara Hector (SWE/Head) will make her 123rd Giant Slalom start, equalling Tina Maze (SLO) and moving one behind Lara Gut-Behrami (SUI/Head) on 124. Federica Brignone (ITA/Rossignol) is the active skier with the most GS starts (128). Hector is the only woman to have taken part in all 79 GS races since the start of the 2017/18 season.
- 3 Tatum Bieler (ITA/Rossignol) and Iria Medina Girones (AND) are both making their World Cup debut in Sölden. Girones will become the third woman to represent Andorra in Giant Slalom at the World Cup, and the first since Mireia Gutierrez (AND) in 2012/13. She could become the first Andorran woman to score a World Cup point in GS.
